FROM DEAN MATASAR

Ah, summer, where did it go? It's back-to-school time, and you know what that means: time for the obligatory WELCOME TO THE LAW SCHOOL column by the Dean. I love tradition; so, here I go!

To the new classes of 1996 and 1997--welcome. Isn't this exciting? A new year, a new school, a new way of learning. It's wonderful to be here.

To the class of 1995--welcome back. Two more years to go. Law review, moot court, trial advocacy. Hard work ahead. But, it will be worth it.

To the class of 1994--I know, I know, you'd rather be on the beach, or even working ... welcome back anyway!

Whew! Obligations are over. Almost. The slogan for this year's Orientation has been "Expect The Best." It's a good maxim, one that works two ways. The law school faculty and staff have worked very hard to bring the best and brightest students to Chicago-Kent. And, of course, since we think you're the best and brightest, we expect the best from you. In turn, you have a right to expect the best from us, and we're working very hard to meet your expectations. If you'd like to give me feedback about the law school, the faculty, the staff, and/or your education in general, a special email I.D. has been created for your messages/complaints/concerns/praises. Send your email message to "DEARDEAN." You are, of course, welcome to submit written messages if you prefer to do so; just place them in my mailbox on the second floor. I look forward to hearing from you and working with you in our mutual pursuit of excellence.

In 1989, the ABA Section of Legal Education and Admission to the Bar formed a Task Force on Law Schools and the Profession: Narrowing the Gap. The Task Force Report, also known as the MacCrate Report for editor Robert MacCrate, has been reprinted for students and is available on the information rack on the concourse. Feel free to pick up a copy and read about some of the major issues being discussed in legal education today.

I am delighted to have the opportunity to work with all of you during the coming year. Good luck! Have a great semester!

FROM LAW SCHOOL ASSOC. PRESIDENT MARSHA C. SPAK, '79

I'd like to welcome you back after what I hope was an enjoyable summer for all. As the president of the Law School Association and a '79 graduate of Chicago-Kent, I know that all of you have great hopes and aspirations for the coming year. First year students may feel overwhelmed and happy to just get through the year, while third year students can see the end of their law school career quickly approaching. Second year students may see this as the time to become more involved at the law school while trying to decide what path they would like their career to take. Whatever your dreams and desires are, I hope you have a successful year.

I also hope to make you aware of the family that exists at Chicago-Kent. Whether you are a prospective student, current student, or alumna/us, you are a part of the family circle. In an effort to make you aware of what part the Law School Association plays in that circle, I will be writing a monthly column for the Record. I will let you know what alumnae/i activities are coming up and how you can play a part in them.

Good luck with your first month and I'll talk to you again soon.

FROM DEAN CHAPMAN

Whether or not you're happy to be back and anxious to get started, the faculty, staff, cafeteria cashiers and I are very happy to see you back. I hope you have a successful and rewarding year.

Fall Schedule Changes

The final exam for Computer Law has been changed from Monday, December 20 to Saturday, December 11 at 9:00 a.m. Prof. Scantlebury's Agency Law class will meet on Thursday evening at 7:35 p.m. instead of Tuesday evening. Prof. Flanagan, a partner with Sidley and Austin, will teach the Corporate Finance course instead of Prof. Lloyd Cohen. Prof. Cohen's Law and Economics course is cancelled. Prof. Lieberman will teach the tax section of Advanced Research at 4:00 p.m. on Tuesday instead of Prof. Bradlaw. Prof. Andrews' Health Care Law class will require a paper, not a final exam.

Official Registration Required

You must be officially registered for the section of the course in which you receive a grade. If you are registered for section 1 of course X, and attend the classes, do the assignments and/or take the final exam in section 2 of course X, you will not receive any credit for the course. Furthermore, you may receive a WE in the course because you did not take the final exam or do the assignments for section 1, the section you were registered for.

2-L Day Students and 3-L Evening Students

You must take either Advanced Research or Legal Drafting this semester unless you are in the Moot Court Society or on the Law Review. There are enough seats available in various sections of these courses to accommodate all students. There may not be a seat available in a section with a specialization or a meeting time you prefer, but these are required courses which you must register for this semester, even if you have to rearrange your schedule to do it. Complete a Registration Change form in the Registrar's office to add an open section of one of these courses. At the end of the week, the Registrar will review the schedules of all students who are required to take Advanced Research or Legal Drafting and if a student is not enrolled who should be enrolled, the Registrar will enroll the student in an open section.

Access to L744 and L844

Some classes are scheduled to meet in rooms L744 and L844. These rooms are located in the southwest corners of the seventh and eighth floors of the library. You must enter the library on the ninth floor and walk or take the elevator to the appropriate floor.

Saturday Trial Advocacy Sections

As stated in the academic calendar and the first assignment memo, the first session for Saturday Trial Advocacy sessions was held last Saturday, August 21. If you missed this session, you must notify your Trial Advocacy instructor and make up any missed work. Several Saturday classes are cancelled because of holidays. In order to hold the correct number of classes, the last Trial Advocacy session for Saturday sections will be on Saturday, December 4, 1993.

Pass/Fail Election

Students in good academic standing may elect to take up to six hours of non-required courses on a pass/fail basis under the conditions set forth in §2.4 of the Handbook. Students on probation may not elect pass/fail for any course in their probationary semester. The deadline for making the pass/fail election is Friday, September 3, 1993 at 5:00 p.m. This is an absolute deadline and will not be extended for any reason. That is also the last day to revoke a pass/fail election previously made for the current semester.

You may not make the pass/fail election for: (1) any course that is required to be taken at some time before graduation, including Professional Responsibility; (2) any seminar, whether or not being taken to fulfill the seminar requirement; (3) any course that has been designated by the instructor before registration as unavailable for pass/fail; (4) any course that, if taken, is required to be taken on a pass/fail basis, such as Law Review, Moot Court, and clinical courses; (5) LL.M. courses; (6) Appellate Advocacy and Trial Advocacy courses; nor (7) any course being taken to fulfill the requirements for the Certificate in Environmental Law and/or the Certificate in International and Comparative Law.

When you submit a Pass/Fail Election Form to the Registrar's office, it is imperative that you have the Registrar's staff initial the Form and return a copy to you which you should keep until you receive the grade in the course. If you receive a grade instead of a "pass" and claim you made a pass/fail election, you must produce your copy of the Election Form which was signed by the Registrar's staff.

Pass/Fail Hour Limitations

This is only the second semester that the pass/fail election has been available and many students are confused about the hour limitations. Section 2.4 of the Handbook permits you to elect pass/fail for a total of six credit hours during your law school career in courses that are graded with a letter grade. The six hours can be elected all in one semester or over several semesters. Section 2.7 of the Handbook limits to 19 credits the total number of hours for which you can receive pass/fail credit towards your degree. This 19-hour limitation includes the 6 hours of elective pass/fail credit and all other courses that are graded only on a pass/fail basis, such as clinical courses, Law Review, Independent Research, Research Assistant, and other courses listed in §2.7 of the Handbook.

$500 Richer

Congratulations to Christine Buckley whose paper won First Prize at Chicago-Kent in the American Society of Composers, Authors & Publishers writing contest. She will receive a $500 cash award (taxable?) and her paper will be entered in the national competition where it will be eligible for additional prizes up to $3,000. Throughout the year, announcements of various writing competitions will be published in The Record.

Academic Calendar

A copy of the 1993-1994 academic calendar is attached to The Record and appears on page vii of the new Student Handbook.

New Library Hours

The library will remain open to midnight on Wednesday and Thursday evenings for the Fall semester. The library and building hours appear on page viii of the Student Handbook, and in this issue of The Record.

1993-1994 Student Handbook

The 1993-1994 Student Handbook is available on the concourse level. Several sections of the Student Handbook were modified or revised to clarify provisions or make them consistent with the curricular changes approved by the faculty last year. Brief descriptions of the more significant changes appear below; refer to the Handbook section for details.

1. Sections 1.15 and 1.16, Certificate in Environmental Law and Certificate in International and Comparative Law, were revised to provide that students may not elect pass/fail for any course used to fulfill the certificate requirements, and to add the conditions under which the International Environmental Law seminar may satisfy the requirements for both certificates:

2. Section 1.17, Dispute Resolution: Litigation and its Alternatives Program, was added to describe the requirements for this program which is available to students entering the law school after 1992.
3. Section 1.19, Joint J.D./M.B.A. Program, was revised to clarify the requirements for the Program.
4. Section 1.20, Joint J.D./M.S. in Financial Markets and Trading Program, was added to describe this new joint degree Program.
5. Section 2.1, Maximum Credit Hours, was revised to apply to all credit hours a student is taking toward the J.D. degree in a semester, including LL.M. and non-law graduate courses (see change number 10, below).
6. Section 2.4, Pass/Fail Election, was added.
7. Section 2.7, Non-Classroom Course Limitation, was added to clarify which courses are included in the 19 hour non-classroom course limitation.
8. Section 3.6, Judicial Externship, was revised to require a grade point average of at least 3.000 to participate in the program.
9. Section 3.13, Auditing Courses, was revised to permit J.D. students to audit courses.
10. Section 5.5, Procedure to Take Non-Law Courses at Graduate Schools, was added to permit students to receive credit for two non-law graduate-level courses towards the J.D. degree.
11. Sections 11.3 and 11.4, Course Sequences and Prerequisites, were revised to reflect the curricular changes approved by the faculty last year.
12. Section 12.3, Student Activities Fee, was amended to reflect the increase in the fee and the new allocation arrangement; also see the changes in §15.1 regarding the Student Activities Finance Board.
13. Section 12.4, Student Insurance, was changed to clarify which students are automatically billed for insurance and the procedures to be followed to waive coverage.
14. Section 12.7, Payment of Charges, was revised to clarify the amount of the late fee on past due amounts.
15. The Financial Aid section, Section XIII, was revised to reflect new forms and procedures.
16. Section 17.1, Library Hours, was revised to include the expanded hours for the Fall semester.
17. The Code of Conduct appears in Section XIX of the Handbook. Section 6-6 of the Code was amended to provide that if the Tribunal unanimously determines that the interests of justice so require, the Tribunal may suspend the entry of a notation on the student's record on conditions it deems appropriate. Previously, the Tribunal could only order that no notation be made on the student's record if it found the violation was de minimis. The section also clarifies the fact that whether or not the violation is noted on the transcript, it will be reported by the law school to appropriate licensing authorities. The latter procedure has always been the practice of the law school, but was not specifically set forth in the Code of Conduct.

FROM THE REGISTRAR

Welcome back! We hope you had a pleasant summer. To start the academic year on the right track, please stop by the Registrar's office to verify that your correct local address and telephone number are on file and pick-up a 1993 I.D. validation sticker.

Tuition Payments

Continuing students should have made two $300 tuition payments by now and the third $300 payment is due on September 1. One-half of the balance will be due October 1 and the balance on November 1. If you have not paid $900 by September 1, your registration is subject to cancellation. Please see the Registration Bulletin for the details of tuition payments; copies are available in the Registrar's office.

Loan Check Disbursal Policy

University policy prohibits the disbursal of a loan check to a student with an account balance. The Registrar cannot release a loan check to a student with an account balance unless the student has a scholarship which exceeds the balance of the student's account. The Registrar is not permitted to accept a personal check to cover the account balance. You must endorse your loan check to IIT to pay your account balance. If the check exceeds your account balance, you must apply for a refund which the IIT Bursar's Office will issue within 10 business days.

Registration Change Forms

When you submit a Registration Change form in the Registrar's office, make sure the staff processes your change, initials the form and gives you the pink copy. If you do not have a signed pink copy of the Change Form, you are not officially enrolled in the class.

Adding and Dropping Courses

Open courses may be added to your schedule until Friday, September 3, 1993, the end of the second week of class. Of course you cannot add a course which will bring your course load above the maximum permitted hours without a Petition signed by Dean Chapman. Non-required and non-clinical courses may be dropped until the date of the final exam. Please refer to Handbook §3.10. There is no charge for dropping a course and reducing your course load during the first week of class. However, if you reduce your credit hours after the first week, you will be charged for the reduction in credit hours according to the following schedule:

during the second week, 50% of tuition during the third week, 75% of tuition after the third week, 100% of tuition will be charged.

Program Notice Errors

A few errors in the Program Notices that were mailed to students have been identified. Trial Advocacy and Alternative Dispute Resolution are graded courses, not pass/fail courses as indicated on some Program Notices. Prof. Marchesani's evening section of General Practice Legal Drafting (424-051) meets on Monday from 6:00 p.m. to 7:50 p.m. Prof. Pinter's Environmental section of Advanced Research (422-008-02) meets on Thursday from 4:00 p.m. - 5:50 p.m. Prof. Mason's Business Insolvency seminar (603-001) meets on Wednesday from 6:00 p.m. to 7:50 p.m.

Complex Litigation

To 2L, 3L and 4L Students-- After your summer work experiences, you may have increased appreciation for the importance of procedure in the work of litigating lawyers. If so, you may want to consider taking the Complex Litigation course. Although the title may sound daunting, the course is an advanced civil procedure class, which will be of great use to litigators. It covers such matters as permissive and compulsory party joinder, intervention, stay orders, consolidation and transfer of suits, class actions, attorneys' fee awards, bi- and tri-furcation and other aspects of the trial of complex cases, and the preclusive effects of judgments in complex litigation. We sometimes even talk about substantive law; the contexts of the cases range from sex and drugs to commercial disputes, and we usually have a good time. I am offering the course MTT at 10:40 a.m. - 11:35 a.m. and TT evenings a 6:00 p.m. - 7:25 p.m.

Thanks, Prof. Steinman

FACULTY NEWS

Professor Bartram Brown recently attended the Amnesty International Lawyer's Group Meetings at the biennial International Council Meeting of Amnesty International in Boston. He met with other members of the Steering Committee of Amnesty International USA's Legal Support Network on Saturday August 14th, and on Sunday August 15th he was one of that group's representatives at a meeting of Amnesty International lawyers from around the world. Earlier this summer Chicago Lawyers for International Human Rights (CLIHR) published a report co-authored by Professor Brown entitled Human Rights in Haiti: On the Road Back to Democracy? This report is based in part on a human rights mission to Haiti in which Professor Brown and the other two co-authors participated last spring. In addition to reporting on human rights conditions in Haiti, the report also assesses prospects for the success of a UN sponsored plan for the restoration of democracy in Haiti.

Professor Marty Malin spoke to the State Bar of Wisconsin's annual meeting in Oshkosh, Wisconsin on June 18th. His topic was, The Family and Medical Leave Act: Anticipating the Issues. Professor Malin's op/ed entitled, Family Leave Act is for Fathers Too, was published in the June 25, 1993, issue of the CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Professor Malin co-authored a paper with Professor Lamont Stallworth of Loyola University's Institute of Labor Relations and Human Resources entitled, Conflicts Arising Out of Workforce Diversity. Professor Stallworth presented the paper at the annual meeting of the National Academy of Arbitrators (NAA) in June in Denver, Colorado. The paper will be published in the proceedings of the NAA Annual Meeting. Professor Malin also spoke to the annual meeting of the Association of Labor Relations Agencies (ALRA) in Portland, Oregon on July 28, 1993. His presentation was entitled, Gilmer, Alternate Dispute Resolution: Subcontracting the Public Interest? ALRA is an organization of every federal, state, provincial and local labor relations board and mediation agency in the United States and Canada. Professor Malin's talk was based on an article he has co-authored with IIT Philosophy Professor Robert Ladenson entitled, Privatizing Justice: A Jurisprudential Perspective on Labor and Employment Arbitration from the Steelworkers Trilogy to Gilmer, which will be published in a forthcoming issue of the HASTINGS LAW JOURNAL.

Professor James Lindgren published Defining Pornography in the UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA LAW REVIEW. It was based on data collected from students at Chicago-Kent.

Meet Dan Walsh, Our New Resource Manager!

Career Services is delighted to welcome Dan Walsh as a member of our professional staff. Dan, a Chicago-Kent 2L, is our new Resource Manager.

You may have noticed that Dan's desk is front and center in our Resource Center. That's because one of Dan's chief responsibilities is to work closely with students, helping them access the resources they need to conduct an effective job search. Dan answers the many "one quick questions" that come into our office concerning how to research firms and other legal employers, how to use LEXIS and WESTLAW in the job search, and what services are available in the Career Services Office.

Whether you are researching fall on-campus employers, small firm employers, public interest organizations, or government agencies, you're likely to find that Dan has some good pointers on how to access the information you need. When you stop by the Career Services Office, be sure to meet Dan and join us in welcoming him.

Mock Interviews

One of the best ways to prepare for the on-campus interview season is to participate in a mock interview session. Career strategist Debbi Gutman will be visiting several Chicago law schools, including Chicago-Kent, to conduct mock interview sessions in September. Mock interviews will be held in the Career Services Office.

The half hour sessions will include a videotaped mock interview, playback of the videotape, and a critique of the interview.

Dates for mock interviews are: Thursday, September 2; Thursday, September 9; Monday, September 13; Tuesday, September 14; Wednesday, September 15.

There are a limited number of mock interviews available; sign up soon! Note: you must submit a resume at the time you make your appointment. No-shows and cancellations less than 24 hours in advance of the session will be charged a $15.00 fee.

Fall Interview Program

The Fall On-Campus Interview Program is open to students graduating in 1994 and 1995 and to LL.M. candidates. An informational packet with an explanation of procedures, the names of participating employers, and student registration materials is now available in the Career Services Office.

The Career Services Office is also distributing class ranks this week for 1994 and 1995 graduates. Your class rank will determine which employers you are eligible to preference for the purposes of the fall interview program.

Important dates for the Fall On-Campus Program:

Mandatory Informational Program for Fall On-Campus Interview Program Participants-- Tuesday, August 24th

Students who plan to participate in the Fall On-Campus Interview Program must attend the informational program on Tuesday, August 24 in the auditorium. This program will provide a chance for us to have a collective meeting of the minds before you turn in your registration materials.

The program will be an informal question and answer session conducted by Lisa Abrams and Kristine Schultz. We will answer any questions you have, explain the scheduling process, and tell you about last minute employer changes, etc. The program will last no longer than an hour. We look forward to seeing you on Tuesday.

A Reminder to Fall Interview Program Participants--Check the Bulletin Board Outside the Career Services Office and Read Your E-Mail Daily

Information concerning changes and additions to the interview program will be posted on the bulletin board outside the Career Services Office.

If we need to communicate directly with you, we will be doing so through email. We will not phone you or leave notes on your locker--so please read your email!

Using Lexis to Research Fall Interview Employers

Greta Southard of Mead Data will provide individualized assistance in researching fall interview employers using the Lexis/Nexis system.

To assist you as you conduct research to preference employers, Greta will be in the Career Services Office on Thursday, August 26th from 1:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. and on Friday, August 27 from 9:00 a.m. -- 5:00 p.m. Greta will provide this assistance on a "drop-in" basis. Simply stop by the Career Services

Office and talk to Greta about how Lexis can help you know more about the legal organizations with which you wish to interview.

Once you receive your interview schedules, Greta will return to help you research the organizations with which you are interviewing. Greta will be in the Career Services Office:

Tuesday, Sept. 14	1:00 p.m. -- 5:00 p.m.
Wednesday, Sept. 15	9:00 a.m. -- 1:00 p.m.
Thursday, Sept. 16	9:00 a.m. -- 5:00 p.m.

Saturday, Sept. 18	11:00 a.m. -- 2:30 p.m.

These sessions will be by appointment; appointment sign-ups are available at the Career Services reception desk.

A Summary of the Hiring Criteria of the Fall 1993 Recruiters

The employers who participate in the fall interview program provide us with information about the academic standing of students they wish to interview--this information is called their "hiring criteria."

As you consider whether or not to pick up the fall interviewing packet and participate in the program, you may find this summary of the fall recruiters' hiring criteria to be helpful.

For 2L's:

- 2 recruiters requiring upper 5%
- 16 recruiters requiring upper 10%
- 8 recruiters requiring upper 15%
- 4 recruiters requiring upper 20%
- 8 recruiters requiring upper 25%
- 2 recruiters requiring upper 30%
- 3 recruiters requiring upper 33%
- 3 recruiters requiring upper 50%
- 1 recruiter requiring GPA of 3.0
- three recruiters do not require a minimal class standing

For 3L's:

- 6 recruiters requiring upper 10%
- 3 recruiters requiring upper 15%
- 4 recruiters requiring upper 25%
- 2 recruiters requiring upper 30%
- 1 recruiter requiring upper 33%
- 1 recruiter requiring upper 35%
- 2 recruiters requiring upper 50%
- 1 recruiter requiring GPA of 3.0
- 3 recruiters requiring accounting degree or CPA
- 1 recruiter requiring technical background for patent law
- 7 recruiters do not require a minimal class standing

Be of Good Cheer--There Are Other Ways to Find a Job!!

It's hard to do--but be sure to keep the Fall On-Campus Program in perspective! As you can see from the information above, the fall recruiters are quite selective (to say the least!) in terms of academic standing. Keep in mind that fall recruiters represent a very small part of the total employment market.

You may find these statistics reassuring: The class of 1992 had an 89% employment rate when measured nine months after graduation. This employment rate was higher than the national law school average of 84%! Only 15% of the Chicago-Kent class of '92 ultimately found jobs through the on-campus interview program. The rest of the C-K class of '92 found positions through networking, clerking for firms, making direct contact with firms, following job listing in the Career Services Office, and a variety of other methods.

The Career Services Office is anxious to work with you to determine the job search methods that will help you reach your career goals. We encourage those of you who are not participating in fall recruiting to meet with one of our career strategists this fall to design a job search plan that will work for you. We're committed to working with every Chicago-Kent student. Come get to know us--we're here to help!

Grace Period for Overdue Career Resources Books

Here's your chance to bring back that resume writing book or that career planning video you found stashed on your bookcase between Torts and Civil Procedure without taking out another student loan to pay the overdue fines which have accrued.

Beginning Monday, August 23, 1993, the Career Services Office will accept overdue career planning books without charging overdue fines. This grace period will run through Friday, August 27, 1993.

We will be implementing a new resource sign-out policy system and this grace period will help us assess the resources currently available to students, what we need to add, and will facilitate a smooth transition to our new system so as to serve all students in the best possible manner. Please take advantage of this opportunity!

If you have something you want to eat or drink later, it must be left in your locker. If we see it, it is subject to confiscation.

Materials left overnight will be reshelfed within the first hour of operation the following day. If for some very good reason you cannot reshelve your materials, at least take them to one of four sets of distribution shelves located on floors 6 through 9.

The Law Library staff is here, ready and willing to assist you in your law studies. GOOD LUCK THIS YEAR!!!

NEWS FROM THE CLC (CENTER FOR LAW AND COMPUTERS)

Welcome back to Chicago-Kent for an exciting and challenging year! During the summer, the Computer Center has installed new software and hardware to continue to provide the most advanced, cutting-edge technology to help Chicago-Kent students be the best law students they can be.

Faculty Projects

This summer, the Computer Center initiated a vanguard demonstration project involving faculty-developed instructional materials. The Computer Center brought together a team of student assistants to explore various software platforms for law school teaching. The student team of Brian Pauls, Kyong Lee, Laura Wallace, Jacqueline Ravitz, Shalla Hyderi, Ben Neiburger and Dominick Grillo, built lessons and prototypes of electronic casebooks. Software tools from CALI (Center for Computer Assisted Legal Instruction) and Folio Views 3.0 were used to test a range of new ideas.

Professor Ronald W. Staudt is working to create an integrated electronic casebook for use by students in class, and to use for notes and annotations before and after class. Again this semester, Professor Staudt will provide the students in his Computer Law class with all class materials in electronic form, a truly "electronic casebook." Students will use notebook computers to read and annotate cases and material. Students will also be required to bring the notebook computers to class for class discussion and participation.

Professor Richard Warner is developing a computer tutorial to teach legal "rules" to specific fact patterns in Contracts. Beginning in the summer, 1992, and continuing in the summer, 1993, Professor Warner wrote a series of texts that were transferred to a computer program for use as a tutorial by the students in his Contracts classes. In addition to the text and questions, the tutorial provides easy access to the Restatement, the Uniform Commercial Code, case materials, and statutes that provide further explanation and discussion of the Contracts topics.

Professor Sheldon Nahmod continued to work on completing an early experiment in using CALI's LessonBuilder software to present lecture material on the case, McColloch v. Maryland. Professor Nahmod has also begun to explore the use of Folio Views as a platform for electronic publication of his Constitutional Torts casebook.

Professor Stuart Deutsch investigated computer tools for presenting material addressing the Clean Air Act in a medium in which the students could read and study the material before class in order to engage students in more sophisticated discussion of environmental policy issues in class.

Professor Evelyn Brody developed HyperPAD lessons for students to use to practice various problems in applying tax law and to provide appropriate lessons to reinforce concepts discussed in class.

Professor Marty Malin has begun initial planning on using software such as ToolBook to create appropriate lessons to introduce the National Labor Relations Board procedures in a graphical environment. Professor Malin hopes to make these procedures clear and easy to understand to enhance class discussion on related issues.

Conferences and Presentations

Professor Ralph Brill and John Mayer, Director, Computing Services, presented a Workshop on Legal Research and Writing at the Association of American Law Schools conference in Washington, D.C., July 30, 1993. Over 170 legal writing professors from across the country attended the workshop to learn about the use of computer technology resources to support and enhance legal writing in law school.

From June 11-12, 1993, CALI/LEAP hosted the Conference for Law School Computing Professionals at Chicago-Kent. Over 200 computing professionals, including professors, librarians, information professionals and computer professionals, from United States and foreign law schools, came to learn about and discuss such topics as computerized legal research, Windows, authoring platforms, network installation and management, etc. Each year this conference convenes at Chicago-Kent because of the advanced resources available for discussion and experimentation. Professor Ronald W. Staudt, John Mayer, and Doug Wachob, Network Manager, were among the presenters.

New Resources for Students

New this semester is a student rollout of WordPerfect 6.0 for DOS. This upgrade to WordPerfect 5.1 for DOS includes some new features for creating and editing documents in WordPerfect, and retains the strengths of the WordPerfect 5.1. One new feature is a powerful outliner that allows users to expand and collapse outline topics to help you synthesize and organize class topics to prepare for class and final examinations, and to organize writing projects. Also new is the integration of Grammatik, a grammar analysis tool, in WordPerfect 6.0 itself. The current Introduction to the Study of Law (required material for all first year students) contains some basic instruction on using WordPerfect 6.0. This material will be supplemented throughout the year for all students with deeper descriptions and instructions on the features in this software. Look for announcements of Computer Center classes and HelpDocs on WordPerfect 6.0.

Also to be rolled out this semester is Windows 3.1 and WordPerfect for Windows for student use. Windows provides computer users with a graphical user interface to make computer use easy and productive. Windows allows users to run more than one software program at once, so that students can access programs such as LEXIS and WESTLAW while keeping documents open for editing in WordPerfect. Look for further announcements of Computer Center classes and HelpDocs on Windows.

The Computer Center is also in the process of coordinating access to the complete suite of products from JuriSoft, including CiteRite, CheckCite, and Full Authority. As of this writing, the Computer Center is still working on installing, testing and documenting these and other software enhancements. Further information will be widely published so that students, faculty and staff can take full advantage of all of our resources.

As always, stay tuned to more Computer Center announcements, and invitations to learn about software and hardware, by reading The Record each week.

LEXIS and WESTLAW

Contact the LEXIS and WESTLAW student representatives if you need LEXIS or WESTLAW software for use at home, or if you need an online database password to access these services. These student representatives are available on a regular basis to answer questions and to provide information. Look for their schedules posted in The Record.

LEXIS/NEXIS Representatives

Your Lexis/Nexis representatives for the 1993 fall semester are Thomas Glasgow and Kirsten Albrecht. If you need any assistance please email TGLasgow or KAlbrecht.

Would you like some help looking for a job when you get out of school? How would you like your name listed for a million attorneys around the country to see? Lexis/Nexis can help. Lexis/Nexis has a new data base going on line September 15th that will list your name, class rank, activities, honors, affiliations, experience, and areas of preference much like Martindale Hubble does for attorneys. This gives attorneys searching for new associates the opportunity to look over your credentials and contact you if they are interested. In order to get your name listed for free go to the career office, ask for Dan, ask him for the Law School Student Directory - Law School Data Entry Form, fill it out, and return it by September 10th.

Would you like to make an easy $2,500? Just enter the Lexis/Nexis ALR nationwide contest. It's easy to enter. Just go to the computer lab in room 700, pick up one of entry forms, follow the directions and log onto lexis to complete the entry form, then mail the postage paid card in. It's that easy! Your name is then placed in the drawing for the $2,500 and every correct answer gets an ALR computer disk holder. It's easy to enter and you could win $2,500.

ORGANIZATIONS

American Bar Association

The American Bar Association offers student memberships for $15.00. If you would like more information about the ABA or an application form, please email Larry Rogers, Day Division ABA Representative (LROGERS), or Jane McBride, Evening Division ABA Representative (JMCBRIDE).

Chicago-Kent Association of Trial Lawyers of America (KATLA)

All Executive Committee members need to meet Wednesday, August 25, 1993 at 3:00 p.m., location to be announced via email. This meeting is crucial to the start of our semester events. All dues-paid members are encouraged to consider running for the recently vacated Treasurer position. Those interested should contact Laura Parry (LPARRY) before August 25, 1993.

Devil's Advocate

Greetings first year students and all returning students! We of the Devil's Advocate would like to welcome you to Chicago-Kent either for the first time or back from summer vacation. For those of you who do not know who we are yet, we would like to take this opportunity to introduce ourselves.

We are a relatively new organization (only 2 years old) but we have produced some of the most interesting and educational extracurricular presentations here at the law school. Our organization is dedicated to presenting an unbiased forum for panel discussions on the top legal and ethical issues of today. For these discussions we obtain the best possible panelists to represent each opinion and we pride ourselves on seeing to it that all opinions are presented in their best light.

Our panels have consisted of some of the best legal minds ever put together including not only speakers from our own illustrious Chicago-Kent faculty but also from the faculties of other law schools as well as legal figures in society who are closely linked to the issues. Some of our past forums have included the controversial extradition case, U.S. v. Alvarez-Machain; a discussion regarding hate crimes and pornography statutes; and most recently (last spring) the hotly debated issue of Dr. Kevorkian's mercy killing in Michigan.

We would like to get this year off to a great start by inviting any students interested in helping to organize these forums to an organizational meeting on Tuesday, August 31, 1993 at 12:00 p.m. (location to be announced -- watch our bulletin board on the Concourse level for details). We also welcome any suggestions for forum topics from all students whether you decide to become a member or not. If you are interested in joining you can just show up at the meeting or if you choose you can email either Paul Van Lysebettens (PVANLYSE) or Yvonne Hilst (YHILST). Why don't you join and help us make this the most exciting year yet!

Evening Law Student Society

On Thursday, August 26, 5:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m., the Evening Law Student Society will present guest speaker Joyce E. Moran, assistant general counsel and assistant secretary for Sears, Roebuck and Company in Room 370. Ms. Moran currently specializes in contract law issues in retailing. In the past, she has practiced in the areas of federal income taxation and estate planning. Ms. Moran graduated from Yale Law School and the University of Chicago Graduate School of Business. She has been an officer and member of the Illinois Judicial Inquiry Board, Chicago School Finance Authority, and the American Civil Liberties Union of Illinois to name but a few of Ms. Moran's civic and professional activities. All students (day and evening) are welcome. Note the date on your calendar!!

And!!!! MARK IT DOWN!!!! Thursday, Sept. 9, 8:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. Plan to take a later train that night, or have your significant other come pick you up and join the party. A social evening for all four Evening Division classes -- 1Ls, 2Ls, 3Ls and 4Ls. Bring your spouse/significant other. G.P. Anton's, 250 South Wacker. We will charge $3 per person at the door -- which pays for a lavish buffet and keeps the drink prices down. Yes it is a cash bar, but it will be reasonably priced. We are charging for this social event to defray costs rather than cover this with student activity fee funds. All students, day and evening, are welcome.

GAYLAW

GAYLAW will hold a regular organizational meeting on Wednesday, September 1 at 3:00 p.m. in Room C15. Besides welcoming new members, GAYLAW will elect officers for 1993-1994 and put the finishing touches on plans for the year. COMING UP... a representative from the Lesbian & Gay Bar Association of Chicago will meet with GAYLAW on September 29 to discuss LAGBAC's MENTORSHIP PROGRAM.

International Law Society

On behalf of the International Law Society (ILS), I would like to welcome all 1st year students, as well as, welcome back all continuing students. Those of you interested in international law will find the ILS useful in your overall education and a bargain with annual dues of only $10.

The primary focus of the ILS is to educate its members about careers and career paths available to international law students. We accomplish this through formal speakers, informal meetings with practitioners, and through our annual International Law Career Day Conference. For those interested in international litigation, we also field a team for the Philip C. Jessup International Law Moot Court Competition. Last but not least, for those of you who are just interested in meeting and socializing with others who have similar interests, we also organize several outings to various "international" establishments within the area.

In the upcoming week we will be announcing the time and location for our general membership meeting. ILS applications are available on the concourse level bulletin board. Completed applications may be dropped off in the ILS folder found on the door of C76 or the ILS mailbox on the 2nd floor, in front of Room 275. Have a great week and we hope to see you at our first meeting.

Kent Commentator

The staff of the Kent Commentator welcomes back all continuing students and extends greetings to all of the new students. The Kent Commentator is the student-run newspaper of Chicago-Kent College of Law and is a great source of information on student issues and the legal environment as a whole. The Commentator is published three times a semester and is read by over 1200 students, staff, and interested alumni. However, the Commentator cannot publish anything without the contributions of students who are interested in writing. Therefore we encourage all continuing and new students to consider joining our staff. To qualify for the Commentator staff you do not have to be an accomplished writer, rather you need only an interest in any of the following areas and the willingness to put your thoughts down on paper:

Phi Alpha Delta

WELCOME BACK! The officers of Blackstone Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity invite all interested and current members to our first general meeting of the year--Tuesday, August 24, at 11:45 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Both meetings will be held in Room C50, and will cover exactly the same info. The 5:00 p.m. meeting is for Evening students as well as Day students unable to make the first one. 2L's and 3L's should go to one of the On-Campus Interviewing workshops, and come to the meeting during the other time slot if you can.

We had a great response during Orientation, and are excited about what we've got planned for the upcoming semester. Come find out what's on tap...literally...including the Kick-Off Happy Hour at Red Kerr's on Thursday the 26th from 5:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m.

We'll be accepting applications and checks for dues (together) at the meetings, and there will be plenty more applications to pick up in case you didn't get one last week. See you on Tuesday!

The TOP TEN Most Frequently Asked Questions from The Center for Law and Computers

August 23, 1993

It's been a busy week for you as well as for the Computer Center. We have compiled some of the most frequently asked questions (and answers) below. We will try to make this a semi-regular column in the Record to keep you abreast of activities and services from the Computer Center.

Q1 How do I send email to someone at another university on the Internet?

A1 Type the following in the TO: field of an email message...

`MAIL @ SMPT {name@destination}`

Where "name" is the username of the person you are sending to and "destination" is the name of the computer system that they have an account. You should type everything else exactly as it appears. If you were sending email to JOESMITH who has an account at HARVARD.HARPO.LAW.EDU, you would address the message as follows...

`MAIL @ SMTP {joesmith@harvard.harpo.law.edu}`

Q2 What is MY address if people want to send me mail from other universities?

A2 Your address is as follows...

`loginname@mail.kentlaw.edu`

For example, John Mayer's Internet address is...

`jmayer@mail.kentlaw.edu`

Q3 I have a Macintosh at home. Will the Chicago-Kent Dial-in software work?

A3 Maybe. The software is Norton's PC-Anywhere 4.5 which only runs on IBM compatible computers. Some adventurous folks have reported to me that they have been successful getting the software to work on a Mac using SoftAT or SoftPC. SoftAT is Mac software that allows the Mac to run IBM-compatible software. I can't guarantee the success of this, so if you want to join the adventurous, good luck!

Q4 How do I print on the dot matrix printers in the computers labs?

A4 The printing system at the law school is set up so that when you send a print job to the printer, it is automatically paused in a print queue. You need to go to the "green screen" computer that is near the dot-matrix printer, find your name on the list of print jobs, move the cursor to your name and press <ENTER> twice to release the job to the printer. We have found that this procedure greatly reduces wasted paper and unwanted print jobs from slowing down everyone's printing.

Q5 How do I print to the laser printers in the computers labs?

A5 The laser printers work in the same way as the dot-matrix printers described above with one additional step. While dot matrix printing is free at the law school, laser printing is 16 cents per page. You must first obtain a vendacard from the machine on the 9th floor of library. Next, you send your print job to the printer and it is automatically held in the print queue. Next, you go to the laser printer and insert the vendacard into the card reader. Now you can release your print job to the printer. The money will be deducted from your vendacard for each page printed. Alternatively, you can bring your diskette to the Document Center on the 9th floor of the library and they will print your document for you for the same cost.

Q6 Can I copy software from the law school's network for my home computer?

A6 NO! This is called theft. If you are caught, you will be kicked out of law school. Copying software is against the law.

Q7 What kind of modem should I buy?

A7 If you don't have a modem, you should purchase one for your home computer. We recommend that you purchase a 9600 (or faster) modem, but 9600 is the fastest you can go with LEXIS, WESTLAW and Dial-in to Chicago-Kent. These modems are available from many vendors for around $250.

Q8 Is it required to purchase the Dial-in software for Chicago-Kent?

A8 Absolutely NOT. This service is an added convenience for students and faculty at the law school. It is not required. Currently, you can access email, grades, classifieds and several news items via the dial-in connection. More services are planned for the future.

Q9 How do I connect my portable computer to the network?

A9 This is a complicated question. There is a document available at the Computer Center called Portable Computing at Chicago-Kent which covers this topic in great detail. Pick up a copy of this document for complete information.

Q10 How do I send a message to everyone in the law school?

A10 You don't. There are three forms of electronic communication available to you at the law school. Email, Broadcast Messages and Classifieds. We would like you to use Email for inter-personal communications, Broadcast Messages for news of general interest to the law school community (send these messages to JMCBRIDE) and Classifieds for selling books, subletting apartments, etc. When you send email to everyone in the law school, it takes up a lot of disk space. More important than that, it annoys a lot of people. We call it "junk email". We all have to learn to be good network citizens.
